Employer Spotlight
We created Big Heart Pet Brands® with a singular focus and a clear purpose. We nurture the bond between pets and the people who love them — making every day special. We honor the people who love pets and we believe that each of them should have access to quality food and treats. Our promise is pet food and snacks — accessible to all — that will help provide long and fulfilling lives for pets and the people who love them. Because we know that healthy and happy pets make all our lives richer.

What Your Internship Manager Wants you to Know

These days employers expect more than extracurricular activities, — they want actual experience. What better way to gain experience than with an internship? What internship managers wish you knew about internships:
1. Working an internship is different from being in school.
2. This really does go on your permanent record.
3. You might not use skills you learned in school and that is normal.
4. Some things in your internship might be the opposite of what you learned in school.
5. An internship is going to expose you to how things work in an office and in your field specifically.
6. Effort is nice, but it’s not what matters.
7. Getting feedback now will be less painful than getting it later.
8. Your internship gives you access to a network of people in the field you want to work in.

There are internship opportunities at your fingertips. Be sure to make an account in hireCalhoun to apply!
