

BIOGRAPHY

Jim Klauber is a native of Greenwood, South Carolina. He graduated from The Citadel in 1989 and was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the South Carolina Army National Guard. He received a Juris Doctor degree from the University of South Carolina in 1993 and earned his Ph.D. in Higher Education Administration from the University of South Carolina in 2009.

Klauber was elected to the Greenwood City Council in 1990 and served for two years before being elected to the South Carolina House of Representatives, where he served for ten years. He was a partner in the firm of Klauber & Long Attorneys at Law, and in 2002, entered the field of higher education administration at Piedmont Technical College where he was named its Senior Vice President and General Counsel in 2009.

Klauber was named President of Owensboro Community and Technical College in Owensboro, Kentucky in May 2010. He retired from the South Carolina Army National Guard as a Lieutenant Colonel in the Judge Advocate Generals Corps after 27 years of service, and completed a ten-month tour of duty in Kosovo in 2003.

A licensed private pilot and scuba diver, he likes to spend his spare time either a few thousand feet above the Earth or thirty to forty feet under water. He is married to the former Teresa Wyatt and has three children, Bette, Jake, and Wyatt.
